

Sustainable Rural Regeneration Program (SRRP)

From Soil to Market

A Mozambican rural development and agro-industrial platform for agricultural production, agro-processing, smallholder integration and rural economic development.

Overview

Macadamia do Planalto (MDP) is developing an integrated rural development platform combining agricultural production, agro-processing, smallholder integration, infrastructure development and market access across Niassa and Zambezia provinces.

Why Mozambique?

36 million hectares of arable land

Strategic location for Southern and Eastern African markets

Growing regional food demand

Significant import substitution opportunities

Strong agro-industrial growth potential

MDP Platform

Current MDP platform geography

1. Niassa 1 - Maniamba

Macadamia, maize, rice, beans and agro-processing

Integrated agricultural hub combining commercial production, smallholder inclusion, technical assistance and processing infrastructure.

2. Niassa 2 - Mepica

Cashew, sesame, maize and rice

Agricultural production and local processing platform focused on value chain development and market integration.

3. Zambezia - Alto Molocue

Cashew and rice

Expansion of agricultural and agro-industrial activities adapted to regional production potential.

Partnership Opportunities

Seed systems • Agro-processing • Mechanisation • Precision agriculture • Renewable energy • Cashew processing • Rice value chains • Smallholder integration • Agricultural logistics • Technology partnerships

Targets 2035

|                           |                              |
|---------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1,000 families integrated | 150 direct jobs              |
| 60% women in leadership   | USD 2 million annual exports |
| 15,000 tCO2e/year         |                              |

Positioning

MDP uses agricultural production, processing, infrastructure and partnerships to create sustainable economic growth in rural Mozambique.
